

Things We Could Do Without Weather Include Telephone Numbers Longer Than S. S. Numbers

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Some things we could do without: Telephone numbers that are getting longer than Social Security numbers.

Dieters who tell you you're killing yourself because you enjoy eating what they can't have.

Any restaurant which claims its fried chicken is "lip smacking good." Nobody who smacks his lips in public ought to go home and eat his fried chicken under the bed.

Fast-talking salesmen who try to sell you cemetery lots by telephone the day after you attend the funeral of a friend.

Girls who won't date a boy unless his hair is longer—and his slacks dirtier—than theirs.

Six-bit paperback novels that show on their covers a picture of a terrified beautiful maiden fleeing from a dark forbidden mansion. The truth is that houses don't haunt women—women haunt houses.

Homely secretaries who wear in the office dresses shorter than the bathing suits their grandmothers used to wear at the beach.

Any new cat or dog foods. Most city cats and dogs already eat better than their masters.

Alarm clocks that wake you up with rock 'n' roll tunes.

Chummy, chatty commercial pilots who start every announcement over the loud speaker system with a cheery "Well, folks—". Their lame ads give you a sinking feeling that you're riding, not with a plane driver, but with a frustrated vaudeville comedian.

Any place that charges a quarter for a cup of coffee that isn't worth a nickel.

Ladies with hair like a surprised porcupine who insist on sitting in the seat in front of you at the theater.

Toadying articles about successful business executives which claim they put in 17 to 18 hours a day on the job. Any executive who hangs around the office that long doesn't love his work: he just hates his home.

Guys who hold on to your arm while telling a funny story—so that you can't flee.

Mothers who let teenage daughters pierce their earlobes. Smart alec computers that try to tell people they would make ideal marital mates.

The new arithmetic. Bank bandits who wear Halloween masks. If they are too ashamed to show their faces, they should get into some other line of work.

Cocktail parties which wind up with the host and hostess giving the guests free judo lessons.

Naturally Cuba Blames the U.S.

HAVANA (AP) — Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro says the Cuban government will redouble its efforts to aid guerrilla movements in other countries because U.S. guards at the Guantanamo Naval Base shot a Cuban soldier.

He demanded at the soldier's funeral Monday that the United States give up the base which it has held since 1903.

The U.S. government has acknowledged that an "incident" took place outside the base on Saturday and said it was investigating.

Amendments in Way of New Min. Wage Bill

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House wades into a stack of controversial amendments today as it moves toward expected passage of a bill to raise the federal minimum wage and broaden its coverage.

Supporters face a strenuous task in retaining the bill's full proposed new coverage of 7.2 million workers, including farm workers and employees of hotels, hospitals and restaurants.

They should have less difficulty in raising the present $1.25 an hour wage to $1.60, but a major effort is being planned to delay the effective date of the top rate from 1968, as proposed in the bill, to 1970.

During four hours of debate Tuesday there was widespread agreement that wages of the nation's lowest paid workers should be raised — at least to the $3,000-a-year regarded as the level of poverty in other federal programs. A wage of $1.60 would produce an annual income of $3,200.

It was not unanimous. Rep. Glenn Andrews, R-Ala., said the bill would create more poverty by forcing farms and small businesses to shut down because they can't pay higher wages.

There was evidence of bipartisan support for the main outlines of the measure, however. Rep. Alphonzo Bell, R-Calif., called for its passage intact, and Rep. William H. Ayres, R-Calif., said he wanted only one minor amendment. Both are members of the Education and Labor Committee which wrote the bill.

The proposal to delay the effective date of the $1.60 wage to 1970 is to be made by Rep. Thomas G. Morris, D-N.M. The bill provides for an increase to $1.40 next Feb. 1, and a stepup to $1.60 a year later.

Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., floor manager of the bill, is counting on the support of President Johnson to help defeat the Morris amendment. Johnson, in a talk to editors of labor publications Monday, endorsed the bill for the first time. He asked Congress for changes in the minimum wage law, but made no specific recommendations.

Other amendments that appear to have wide support would eliminate farm workers from coverage, exempt cannery workers from overtime, limit the size of retail establishments that would be covered, provide lower wages for teen-agers, and drop waiters and other tipped employees from the bill.

Fees Changed at National Reservoirs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Engineers announced new regulations Tuesday which will greatly reduce the number of recreation areas at federal dams and reservoirs where user fees will be charged.

Nationally, the new criteria will have the effect of reducing from 955 to 163 the number of recreation areas where users must pay a fee.

In Arkansas, the reduction is from 107 to 33.

The change is expected to take much of the steam out of a drive in the U.S. House to pass a bill sidetracking user charges at dams and reservoirs.

The new criteria specifies that fees are to be charged at such recreation spots where federal expenditures of at least $25,000 have been made for recreation facilities, where there are at least 25 acres of usable land above the conservation pool, where attendance is at least 50,000 a year and where the potential exists for further development.

When a recreation area does not meet all four of these requirements, no fee is to be charged.

Arkansas congressmen said the new criteria reduced the number of fee areas at nine Arkansas reservoirs as follows:

Beaver Reservoir, from 11 to 3; Blue Mountain, from 4 to 2; Bull Shoals from 12 to 5; Dardanelle from 14 to 3; Greers Ferry from 12 to 6; Lake Greason from 13 to 3; Lake Ouachita (Blakely Mountain) from 17 to 6; Nimrod from 6 to 2 and Norfolk from 18 to 3.

FBI Listened to Baker on Telephone

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has sent an unprecedented memorandum to the Supreme Court admitting that Federal Bureau of Investigation agents secretly eavesdropped on conversations between a lawyer and his client — a former associate of Bobby Baker.

The client, Washington public relations man Fred B. Black Jr., later was convicted of income tax evasion. But in the memorandum, Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall said Black should be given a court hearing.

Marshall's memorandum to the high court, sent Tuesday, indicated that the FBI apparently acted on its own when it "installed a listening device" in Black's hotel suite in Washington three years ago.

The memorandum said that neither the Justice Department attorneys who prosecuted Black nor "any other attorney of the Department of Justice" — including Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach — knew about the electronic snooping.

Black now is fighting his 1964 tax conviction and has asked the Supreme Court for the second time to review his conviction. The court denied Black's first request for review May 2.

He and Baker, former Senate Democratic secretary who has been indicted on a number of federal charges, were associated in a Washington vending machine business.

In his memorandum, Marshall said the bugging, which took place between February and April 1963, "was unrelated to the tax evasion case."

But he added: "The listening device was in operation from approximately two months before until approximately one month after the evidence was presented to the grand jury and the indictment was returned."

"During that time the monitoring agents overheard, among other conversations, exchanges between petitioner and the attorney who was then representing him in connection with the tax evasion charges on which he has been convicted."

Marshall said although the Justice Department is convinced "the monitoring of conversations had no effect upon his conviction or the fairness of his trial, we have no doubt that in the circumstances (Black) is entitled to a judicial determination."

Tutankhamen rose to the Egyptian throne when he was 12 years old.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Marital State Can Influence Health

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

June is traditionally the month of marriages and no step in life has a greater effect on the mental, emotional and physical health of the chief participants.

About 40 per cent of all brides these days are still in their teens. All too soon after marriage they discover to their sorrow that being physically ready for married life is not enough. An unplanned pregnancy that occurs either before or shortly after the marriage places a great burden of responsibility on a young couple—one that few teenagers are equipped to shoulder.

The greatest fault with early marriages is the fact that over half of them end in divorce within the first five years. Modern acceptance of divorce does not lessen the fact that for the individuals concerned it is a tragic experience—one to be avoided if at all possible. This is doubly true if one or more children have been born to the couple. Carefully compiled insurance records show that the illness and death rates are higher in those who are divorced than in those who stay married.

The following suggestions have helped many couples to weather the storm and find the happiness they had hoped for in their marriage:

Learn to communicate. When differences arise, talk them out. Suiking and carrying a chip on your shoulder can be an emotional cancer. It will grow inside you and spread, upsetting your digestive system, the stability of your blood pressure and the smooth working of your heart and blood vessels.

Don't expect your mate to take the place of your parents. Marriage is a new relationship that requires a realistic adult approach. With your parents you were primarily on the receiving end. In marriage you must learn to give as well as take, and the main things you must learn to give are love and understanding. Love in this context means having a true concern for your partner's well-being. You can't give too much of this kind of love—a love that has been called the greatest tonic in the world. When children come, love and understanding are exactly the kind of medicine they are going to need, too.

Q—When frozen meat has been thawed you advised against refreezing it. If I find that I'm not going to need it right away after I've thawed it, what should I do?

A—Cook it first and then refreeze it. If you then thaw the cooked meat a second refreezing will do no harm but the meat may lose some of its flavor.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The television industry's highest honors, its Emmy awards, were passed out Sunday night in traditional show business fashion on CBS. It was a better program than last year's but it still lacks the glamor and excitement of the movie's Oscar show.

Because television, unlike motion pictures, is a two-coast business, there were assemblages in both Hollywood and New York and the show bounced back and forth between them. Danny Kaye and Bill Cosby, West and East Coast masters of ceremonies, kept the jokes short and the recipients on the move.

"The Dick Van Dyke Show," which has concluded its run, and Bob Hope Presents the Chrysler Theater, came off with the lion's share of the awards — four each.

Van Dyke, costar Mary Tyler Moore, the show's writers and the program itself were chosen in various categories. The Bob Hope show awards were for outstanding directorial achievement, Sidney Pollack for "The Game"; outstanding single performance by an actress in a leading dramatic role, Simon Signoret in "A Small Rebellion"; best actor, Cliff Robertson in "The Game," and for the series as a whole, Bob Hope, executive producer.

"The Fugitive," another well-done and long-running series, was picked as the best dramatic series. Barbara Stanwyck received a tremendous hand when she received her award as outstanding actress in a series, and so did Cosby, a night club comedian turned television hero. Miss Stanwyck stars in "The Big Valley" and Cosby is a co-star of "I Spy."

Two awards went to talented persons who died during the season. David Lowe received an award for his fine "KIKK — The Invisible Empire," chosen as the season's best documentary in spite of the fact that CBS, the network on which it was broadcast, did not enter shows in its news division. Alice Pearce, who played a supporting role in the comedy series, "Bewitched" was also an award winner.

"Frank Sinatra: A Man and His Music" won in the category for a single musical program. The Bob Hope Christmas show was picked in the category of variety specials.

During the 100 minutes, more than 40 statuettes were distributed or winners introduced. The program, long as it was, went along pretty well, although there was still a lot of fumbling around with envelopes and some superfluous thanksgiving. Generally it was a no-nonsense show.

"Perry Mason" wound up its nine-year run Sunday night. It was not one of the best stories the series has ever had, but it did have some interesting sidelights.

The plot swung around the murder of a nasty television star during a studio fight scene. The backgrounds were largely real spots in the studio where the show was made. Bit parts were played by people routinely connected with the show. Erle Stanley Gardner, who created the lawyer-hero, played a judge with a minimum of lines. Gail Patrick Jackson, the executive producer, was glimpsed sitting at a bar. Jackie Coogan and Dick Clark were prominent in the proceedings.

The series has been around for such a long time that the regular members of the cast are like old family friends. I suspect that a lot of us will miss the show when fall rolls around.

Traces Forebears to Biblical Noah

DEWITT, Mich. (AP) — When Stanley Becker was 11 he started wondering who his ancestors were.

He is now 15, a high school honor student. He has done a lot of delving in ancient times and reports that he has traced his forebears to the biblical Noah.

In between Noah and his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Becker, Stanley says he has found evidence that his ancestors included:

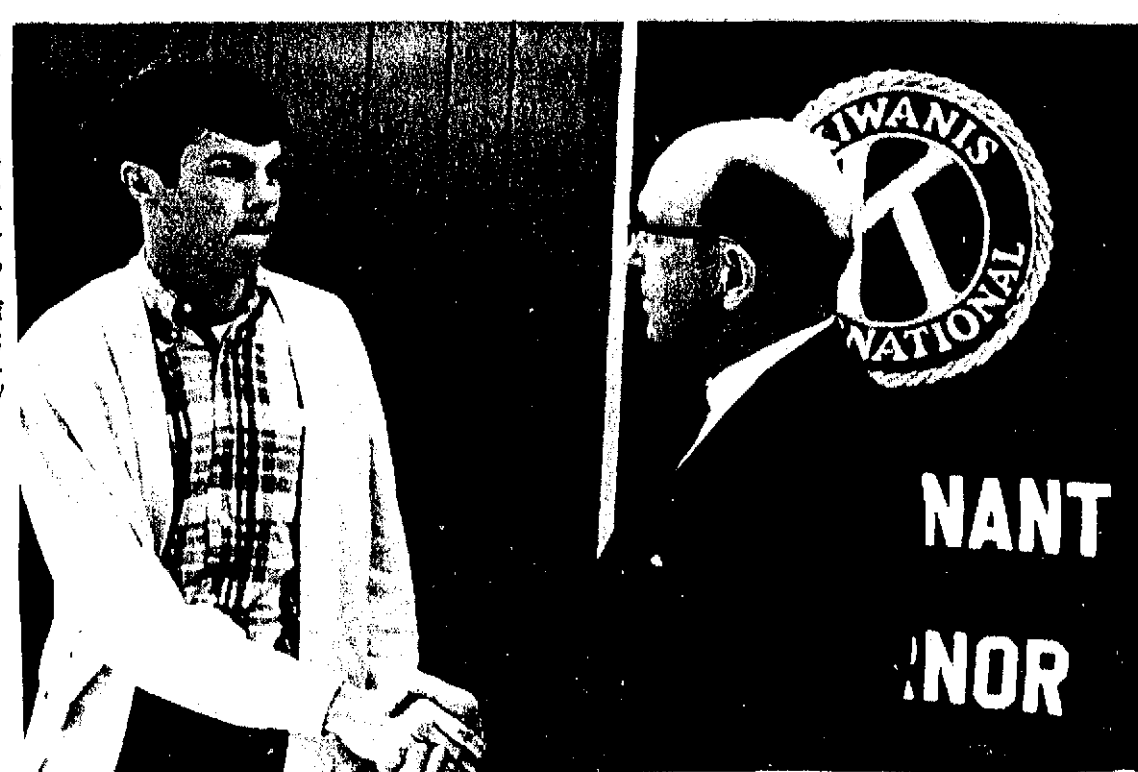

— Malcolm III, ancient king of Scotland.

— The Umfreville noble family of France, whose members joined William the Conqueror in the Norman invasion of England in 1066.

— A French landholder who "had a great big feast for his family" and "poisoned everybody."

Stanley studied federal census reports, read histories in libraries, and visited cemeteries and court houses in the Finger Lakes section of New York State.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson discovered a small open space in the asphalt jungle of New York City Monday that seemed to please her almost as much as the country near the Pedernales River in her native Texas.

The First Lady came to New York to help dedicate a new plaza at the Jacob Rills House, a 20-year-old public housing project. The plaza includes a 1,000-seat sunken amphitheater, surrounded by a brick and timber pergola and a large playground.

"You're having fun," Mrs. Johnson told youngsters playing in the playground. "It shows in everybody's face."

Cleveland and Detroit Split; Brooks Is Hot

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Everything is perfect—good defense, good hitting and good pitching."

Sounds like the manager of one of baseball's upper-echelon teams, right?

Actually, those are the words of Billy Herman, whose Boston Red Sox are only 1½ games and four days removed from the American League cellar.

But Herman's Red Sox are streaking. They stormed to their sixth straight victory Tuesday night, crushing the Minnesota Twins 11-2 with a 16-hit barrage that included homers by Carl Yastrzemski, Jim Gosger and Tony Conigliaro, plus four doubles.

In addition to the luster hitting, Boston had the good pitching, by Jose Santiago and Dick Radatz, and the good defense, a zero in the error column.

At the other end of the ladder, front-running Cleveland and second-place Detroit split a doubleheader Tuesday night. The Tigers won the opener 7-6 on Don Wert's eighth-inning single, while the Indians took the second game 2-0 as Luis Tiant pitched his fourth shutout of the year.

Also in the AL—California beat the Yankees 4-2 with a four-run fifth inning. Baltimore downed the Chicago White Sox 6-4 behind the key hitting of Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell, and Don Lock's two-run pinch homer with two out in the bottom of the ninth lifted Washington over the Athletics 2-1.

In the National League—San Francisco topped Pittsburgh 5-2. Houston trimmed the New York Mets 5-3, the Los Angeles Dodgers shaded Philadelphia 3-2. Cincinnati buried Atlanta 8-2, and the Chicago Cubs blanked St. Louis 2-0.

Tiant, whose four victories have all been shutouts, blanked the Tigers on four hits in the second game at Detroit. Chuck Hinton singled across an unearned run against loser Hank Aguirre in the fifth and Leon Wagner homered for Cleveland's second run in the eighth.

The Tigers, down 5-0 in the opener, came back and eventually settled it in the eighth when Worth singled in Ray Oyler. Norm Cash hit two homers for Detroit and Jim Northrup one. Rocky Colavito, Duke Sims and Fred Whitfield homered for Cleveland.

Athletic Group Nowhere Near an Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peace apparently is going to be hard to come by in the sports war between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

Hearings before a five-man arbitration board—the fifth since the panel was named by Vice President Hubert Humphrey last January—were recessed here Tuesday night without agreement on salient issues.

More talks were set for June 15-16 in New York and indications were that the rival factions remain far apart.

"This could go on for months and months—I don't know when it could be settled," a spokesman for the NCAA said.

"Everybody appears confused—it's a mystery to some of us," added an AAU official.

The disputing parties are committed to silence until the panel has had a chance to do its job but, speaking anonymously in the hotel lobbies and at lunch tables, delegates whisper of "delaying tactics" and "evasion of issues" on the part of the rival groups.

Chairman Theodore W. Kheel, well-known New York labor mediator, and the other four members of his panel appeared optimistic until a proposal offered the two sides Tuesday encountered opposition.

The plan, details of which weren't announced, was presented to the combined AAU-NCAA session.

Travelers Drop Game at Arlington

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas failed to bring a man home from third in the last inning, and Dallas-Fort Worth scored a 5-4 Texas League baseball victory here Tuesday night.

Relief pitcher Sam Cook retired Roy Majtyka on an infield tap to end the game.

The Spurs got four runs in the seventh, with Von McDaniel's triple bringing home the winning run. Dallas-Fort Worth has a 2-0 advantage in the series.

Elsewhere in the Texas League, Amarillo's Don Wilson shut out El Paso for the third time this season. The score was 6-0 and Wilson helped by hitting a two-run double.

Wilson now has a 7-1 pitching record.

Amarillo is 4½ games ahead of Arkansas.

The other scheduled Texas League game, Albuquerque at Austin, was rained out.

Fairly's Homer Gives Dodgers a 3-2 Victory

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Mr. Clutch has shifted gears again and the Los Angeles Dodgers are driving.

Ron Fairly, the Dodgers' unseasoned delivery man, rapped an eighth-inning home run Tuesday night that made the difference in a 3-2 decision over Philadelphia, the fifth victory in the last six games for the world champions.

Fairly has hit four of his five 1966 homers in his last five games, helping the Dodgers stay within range of first-place San Francisco in the National League race.

Three weeks ago, however, the versatile red-head was struggling to break a batting skid while the Dodgers, after dropping three straight to the Giants, were at a standstill.

Fairly, a .270 lifetime hitter, had gone 4-for-36 and was hitting a miserable .203.

Since then, he's rolled at a .400 clip, lifting his average to .290, and driven in 11 runs for a team-leading total of 20. The 27-year-old outfielder paced the club with 70 RBI last season and hit a solid .274.

Tuesday night's homer sent LA in front 3-1 but turned out to be the winning blow when the Phils scored in the ninth against Ron Perranoski. Perranoski, who came on for winner Don Sutton in the eighth, had not allowed a run in his previous 11 appearances.

Elsewhere, the Giants whipped Pittsburgh 5-2. Cincinnati blasted Atlanta 8-2, Houston beat New York 5-3 and Chicago blanked St. Louis 2-0.

An American League doubleheader, the Tigers taking the first game 7-6 and the Indians the nightcap 2-0, while Baltimore trimmed Chicago 6-4, California astopped New York 4-2, Boston buried Minnesota 11-2 and Washington edged Kansas City 2-1.

A seventh-inning single by pitcher Gaylord Perry touched off the Giants' winning three-run rally against Pittsburgh.

Tom Haller singled in the first run, Willie Mays delivered the second with a sacrifice fly and Willie McCovey capped the rally with his fifth homer. Mays' RBI was his first since May 13.

The Reds struck for seven runs in the sixth inning and put away Atlanta behind the six-hit pitching of winner Joey Jay, 5-2, and Bill McColo.

Tommy Helms, who cracked four hits for the night, triggered the big inning with a single and finished it off with a run-scoring single. Don Pavletich singled in two runs and John Edwards doubled across two more as the Reds sent 11 men to the plate and collected half of their 16 hits in the sixth.

The Astros scored four runs in the first inning — three on Gentile's bases-loaded double — and held off the Mets on Claude Raymond's one-hit relief pitching over the last 5-1-3 innings.

Rust Staub knocked in the other Houston runs with a double and single.

Glenn Beckert doubled in the sixth inning at St. Louis, and scored on Ernie Banks' sacrifice fly, then drove in the Cubs' second run with a seventh-inning single.

Ted Abernathy bailed Bill Hands out of a ninth-inning jam, preserving the rookie's fourth victory.

Rookies Will Crack Time at Classic

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Seven rookie drivers — considered veterans outside Indianapolis — will crack the big time in the 50th 500-mile classic May 30.

"You're nobody until you've run this joint," said Mel Kenyon of Davenport, Iowa. "It really makes you a somebody."

The last time a rookie hit the winner's circle at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was 1927 when George Souders of Lafayette, Ind., piloted a Ducesenberg at 97-plus miles per hour.

Two first-timers this season, Graham Hill of London and Jackie Stewart of Dunbarton, Scotland, are leading drivers on the World Grand Prix circuit.

Besides these and Kenyon, the rookies are Gary Congdon, Garden Grove, Calif.; Cale Yarborough, Charlotte, N.C.; Carl Williams, Kansas City, Mo., and Larry Dickson, Marietta, Ohio.

Stewart, 26, is the hottest driver on the international circuit. Last Sunday he won the season's first Grand Prix race at Monaco and during the first three months of 1966 he won four of eight events to capture the Tasman Championship to Australia and New Zealand.

Collins Has Qualified, May Not Run

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Big Bill Collins of Purchase, N.Y., the club pro at Brae Burn Country Club, shot a solid, three-under-par 139 in local qualifying for the U. S. Open Golf Tournament — but he isn't at all sure he'll try the big test in San Francisco.

Collins, a 6-foot-3, 215-pounder, was five strokes better than the No. 2 man in the qualifying in New York's suburban Westchester County Tuesday, but he was far from satisfied.

"I'm not doing anything real well," he said. "If I'm not playing any better than this, I'm certainly not going to tee it up on a course as tough as Olympic Club."

He, and all the other local qualifiers, still have one more major hurdle to clear, however, before reaching the finals at San Francisco's Olympic Club June 16-19.

Two days of local qualifying rounds ended Tuesday with 70 more pros and amateurs joining the 455 who qualified Monday. These survivors of an original field of 2,437 now go into sectional qualifying, either June 6 or 7, where the field will be trimmed to 123. All qualifying is over 36 holes.

They join 28 players — including most of the top names on the pro tour — who are exempt from all qualifying for one reason or another. That final field of 151 will compete at San Francisco.

Among those exempt from all qualifying are defending Open champion Gary Player, Masters champ Jack Nicklaus, British Open champion Peter Thomson, Amateur titlist Bob Murphy, the 15 leading scorer in last year's Open and the 15 leading money winners.

Ben Hogan has received a special invitation and is exempt. A field of 48 others were exempt from local qualifying but must play in sectional tournaments.

The final local qualifying was held Tuesday at Westchester, Long Island, Atlanta, Houston and San Francisco. Qualifying rounds in 57 other locations were held Monday.

Club pro Roane Puett of Austin, Tex., had the best round of them all Tuesday, a six-under-par 138, leading the seven qualifiers at Houston.

Other leaders — all with scores of 143 — included Jim Wright and Tom Nieporte, topping a field of 15 on Long Island, Hugh Royer Jr., Pine Mountain, Ga., leading a field of nine at Atlanta, and Dave Cogdell of Palo Alto, Calif., who topped a field of 20 at San Francisco.

Probably the most prominent casualty was Canadian Al Johnston, a one-time tour regular and now an assistant at Westchester Country Club.

Johnston was forced to withdraw after 18 holes because of a bad back.

Debt Ceiling Could Force a Squeeze

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A $330-billion debt ceiling, although the highest ever, could force the Treasury Department into a financial squeeze during the next fiscal year if all its chips don't fall into line.

That is the belief today of some officials who feel the ceiling voted Tuesday by the House Ways and Means Committee eliminated most of the built-in headroom they allowed for contingencies.

The department requested a $332-billion temporary debt ceiling for fiscal 1967 which begins July 1, up from the present temporary limit of $328 billion.

The $332-billion figure would give the Treasury about $3 billion headroom. Officials feel this would permit more efficient management of the debt if the added authorization was not needed for contingencies.

The Treasury nearly bumped the ceiling in the late 1950s and was forced to stretch out payments of some of the government's bills to remain within the limit.

The lower ceiling, it was reported, also might force the government to sell some of its financial assets prematurely instead of waiting for an ideal time in the money market.

The House committee's selection of the lower figure apparently was based on a report by the staff of the Senate Finance Committee on Internal Revenue that the Treasury had forecast too large a budget deficit.

Treasury officials feel the joint committee's estimates are too optimistic.

The Treasury Department apparently plans to further move until the House acts on the debt ceiling — probably week after next. But it could request the Senate Finance Committee to stick with the original request of $332 billion.

If the Senate goes along with the higher limit, the outcome could be a splitting of the difference at $331 billion, a figure some Treasury officials say wouldn't be too hard to live with.

Nobody even discusses the possibility that Congress might refuse to act on a temporary ceiling and permit the limit to drop to its permanent level of $285 billion.

Congress always has gone along with an increase, although it has sometimes chopped the amount. It did so last year in approving the $328 billion figure, $1 billion short of the administration's request.

This year's request was based on a budget deficit of $3.9 billion for the fiscal year which ends June 30. Under a formula developed by former Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, this deficit is added to the existing temporary ceiling to reach the new figure.

Get Tough Policy With NATO Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sentiment appears to be growing in the Pentagon for a get-tough attitude toward North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations that shirk their common defense responsibilities.

Some key authorities have indicated they would like to see U.S. forces thinned down in Europe.

A source said failure of West Germany to meet a two-year commitment to buy about $1.3 billion in arms and military supplies from the United States could bring moves toward an American troop reduction there.

So far — with only a little more than a year to go in the commitment period — Germany is more than $1 billion short in its promised purchases, officials said.

The rising irritation in the Defense Department is stimulated by:

— Growing manpower requirements for the Viet Nam war at a time when the United States has the equivalent of six Army divisions and a total of nearly 225,000 fighting men massed along the iron curtain in Germany.

— Continued reluctance by NATO countries, including Germany, to maintain their defense budgets and contribute to their abilities in the defense of Europe.

It is understood that West German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel received little sympathy from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara during recent conferences here in which von Hassel told of Germany's difficulties in meeting its agreement to buy war goods from the United States.

This agreement, and others that preceded it, are designed to offset U.S. costs in maintaining a major combat force in Germany.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Battel

Love Me Love My Name

— Dear Helen: I love my husband but I hate his last name. I work in an office. Is it illegal to call myself by my maiden name, and have my mail addressed to my married name? Of course, we'd keep all my legal documents in my married name. — Mrs. F.Etc.

Dear Mrs. F.: You may call yourself any name you wish, so long as there is no intent to defraud. But you're going to get a lot of raised eyebrows. Really now, you married him for better or for worse, and if "worse" is in name only, you're better off than most. — H.

Dear Helen: My daughter's best friend confides in her, and my daughter confides in me. So I hear things. This girl is a good girl, but head over heels in love. Her parents won't let her get married, so she tells my daughter she is going to force them to by having a baby. There is lots of bitterness here, and this is her way to "get even." Should I tell the parents? Should I pretend I never heard it? I don't know these folks very well but I gather they aren't the understanding type, and whatever I say would get the girl severely punished and me hated. Help me, Helen. — Knows Too Much

Dear Knows: This girl needs a substitute mother, one who can set her thinking straight; and you are elected, whether you want the job or not. Carrying tales to her kind of parents would hurt more than help, but she DOES need adult counseling. Somebody has got to show her a good girl never wins when she risks her reputation to "get even." Start listening. — H.

The Better Years
Dear Helen: The house is quiet very quiet. I'm thinking of other times when the noise made me wince.
Our three girls are married and gone. I now have lots of stockings, gloves, nail polish, remover, shampoo, jewelry... all mine again. No more do I find empty hair spray cans on the shelf, and empty pop bottles put back in the refrigerator. The peanut butter jar doesn't have a ring of jam around the top, and the leftover cake I was saving as dessert is there eat dessert time. I can even keep a box of crackers for a week!

Would Keep Rural Post Offices

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — State Rep. David Pryor, a candidate for 4th District congressman, asked Monday that the Post Office Department reconsider moves to close small rural offices in the district.

"A community's way of life is in great part centered around its post office," Pryor wired Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien.

"These post offices admittedly do not handle a large volume of mail," he said, "but they have stood as landmarks to community pride and service for generations."

Speaks of the Joy of Freedom

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The beauty queen spoke not of the thrill of being Miss USA or the prospect of stardom, but of the joy of freedom.

"It's great to be free and to be an American," said Maria Judith Remenyi Monday, three days after being crowned Miss USA. "You may not realize how wonderful it is to be an American unless you have lived under oppression of the Iron Curtain."

Miss Remenyi lived in Communist Hungary until the abortive revolution in 1956 when she escaped with her parents and younger sister.

Carried Photo 2 Years, Paid Off

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Detective Robert Caffery carried a wanted man's photo in his pocket for two years. It paid off. Caffery spotted the man driving a car along a city street, stopped him and arrested him.

The arrested man was wanted in Puerto Rico as a prison escaper. Caffery was vacationing in Puerto Rico two years ago and picked up a picture of the man to carry with him when he heard the escapee might have fled to Connecticut.

It takes between 18 to 20 months to manufacture snuff, a powdered preparation which involves grinding the tobacco and fermenting it. Inhaling snuff became common in England around the turn of the 17th century and became universal during the 18th century. At first snuff users carried their own graters, which were often decorated with the art and craft of the miniature painter, the enameleer, jeweler, goldsmith and silversmith.

Oswald says: "Here is a problem for you, Jim. I sat in back of South. I had never seen him before. His play to trick two told me that he was an excellent card player. What were his plays to tricks one and two?"

Jim: "That really isn't much of a problem. There are certain card combinations that cry out for one and only one correct play and South was looking at one of those combinations in the diamond suit. Therefore he must have led the five or six of diamonds from dummy at trick two and stuck in the nine spot after East played low. Of course, he must have won the spade lead in dummy as a preliminary."

Oswald: "This play produced three diamond tricks for South and since he had nine top tricks in the other three suits it gave him his slam. Of course, South was lucky to find East with exactly three diamonds to an honor but he had followed the principle of giving the cards a chance and they had rewarded him."

Jim: "Even without the good diamond break South might make the hand. Assuming a spade continuation he would run off five club tricks and discard a spade and heart from dummy. After this a squeeze might have developed."

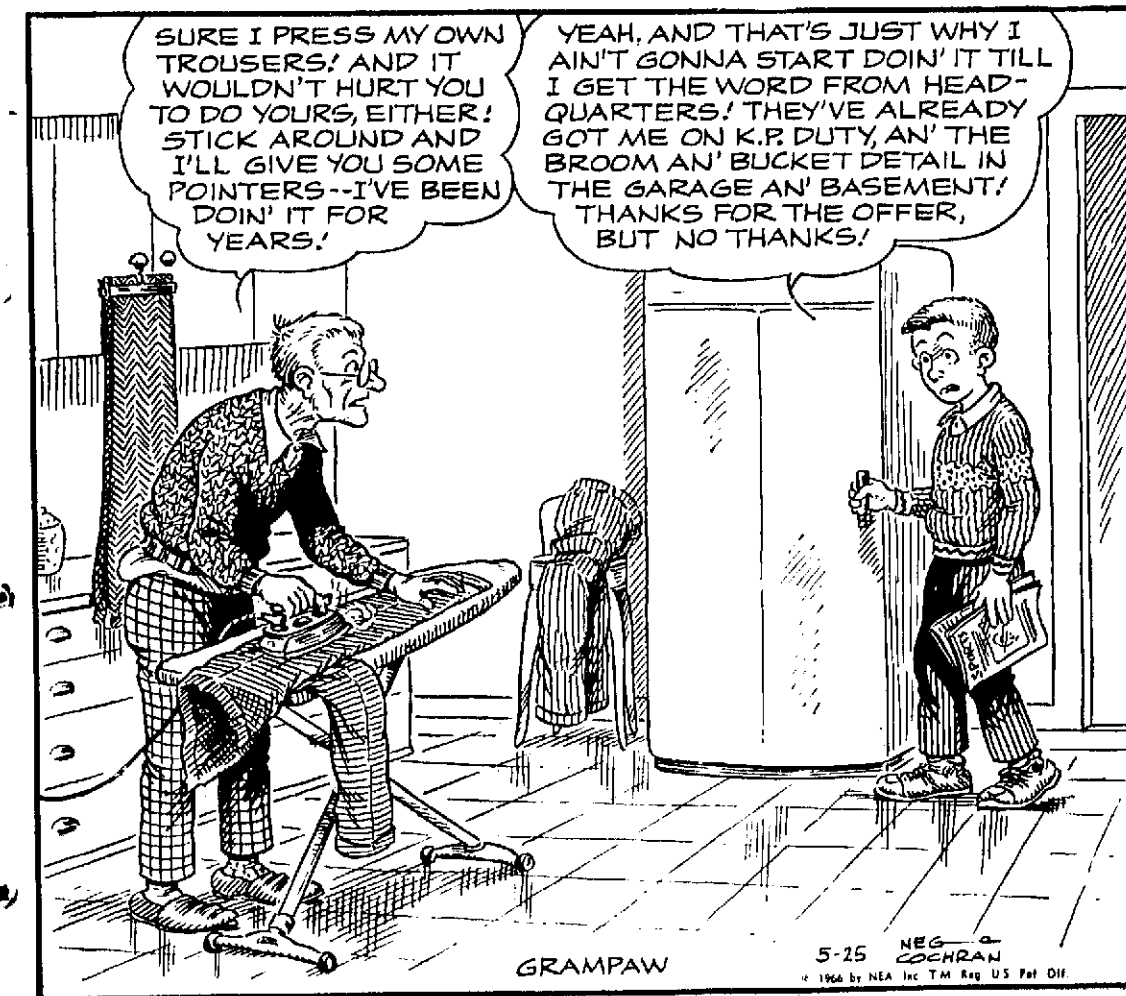

Oswald: "Six no-trump was an optimistic contract. North held only 12 high card points and in view of his 4-3-3-3 distribution might well have settled for three no-trump in stead of inviting the slam."

Jim: "There is one interesting feature of the bidding. When this particular North bid four no-trump he was merely giving a strong bid in no-trump and not using Blackwood."

Prohibition Fails in Mississippi - Last 'Dry' State

Last week-end Mississippi, only remaining Prohibition state, surrendered to the march of time. Governor Paul B. Johnson signed into law a bill providing for local option elections by counties.

You might expect a jubilant cry from this avowedly "wet" newspaper, but jubilation is out of place in a story so sordid and pathetic.

National prohibition was pathetic, because it presented the hypocritical spectacle of church groups denouncing any tieup between church and state but at the same time piously lobbying for police power to put in jail adults whose views differed from their own.

Prohibition was sordid, especially in Mississippi, because after installing prohibition as "a great moral reform" the state set up what amounted to a governmental racket, licensing and taxing bootleggers.

The spotlight is on Mississippi, not because it was alone in its prohibition wickedness, but because it happens to be the last of the commonwealths to vote for repeal.

Today we know it is folly to try to legislate on what adults shall eat or drink or wear. But we didn't know until we had tried it.

I think most people agree that alcoholic beverages present a problem which calls for governmental regulation - but short of flat prohibition. It is this editor's view, and his paper's established policy, that while prohibition might have seemed necessary as a last resort two generations ago times and circumstances make it indefensible today.

Before the days of automobiles, good roads, movie houses and television sets there was precious little entertainment except for the old-time saloon. Public drunkenness was a critical problem on the frontier.

But a reasonable man is bound to consider it unreasonable to argue that with all the better things in life to spend money on and enjoy today the average person has the same temptation to get drunk that he had two generations ago.

Our position is founded on logic, not emotion. We explained it in two local option elections in Hempstead County - winning one, but losing the other.

Local option is not entirely savory, either, as Mississippi will find. We have it in Arkansas. The way it works in Arkansas is like this: Hempstead county votes liquor out but continues to draw benefits from taxes on liquor sold in neighboring Texarkana. Liquor taxes are deposited in the state general fund, and distributed at the county and district level as "turnback funds", without regard to whether a county is "wet" or "dry."

That's a pretty cozy situation. And thoroughly dishonest.

If a community won't shoulder the responsibility of handling its own share of the liquor traffic then it ought to be held up to public scorn for taking tax money from a neighbor who has to bear all the policing cost.

We know. Mississippi will learn.

Future Not Clear on Rights Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) - A House Judiciary subcommittee hopes to complete its hearings on the administration's civil rights bill today, but the legislation may have a cloudy future.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has been able to provide crucial Republican votes in past civil rights battles, suggested Tuesday that the 1966 measure might well be "put on the hook until next year."

Dirksen told a news conference this would give Congress more time to study the constitutionality of the measure's open housing provision and its section designed to prevent discrimination in the selection of state and federal jurors.

The Illinois Republican stood firm on the position he previously had taken that the proposed ban on racial or religious discrimination in the sale or rental of housing is "absolutely unconstitutional."

Romney Maps Strategy to Get Nomination

By DICK BARNES
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan announced as expected today for a third term — one that could propel him to the Republican presidential nomination in 1968.

This came only hours after sources close to Gov. Nelson Rockefeller said the New York Republican leader had made a firm commitment to back Romney for the GOP nomination, which twice escaped Rockefeller.

The term would be four years under a new State Constitution which Romney helped write. Romney's first two terms were for two years each.

Romney has no announced Republican opposition and the filing deadline is less than three weeks away. Zolton Ferency, Democratic state chairman, is expected to be his November general election opponent.

At a news conference, Romney parried questions about his 1968 ambitions today, saying several times: "No person can foresee what will happen two or four months from now, let alone two or four years. The only office for which I am a candidate is governor of Michigan."

War Collection Given to U.S.

OAK PARK, Ill. (AP) — A collection of Civil War research, gathered by E.B. Long, Oak Park historian, will be presented to the Library of Congress Friday.

The gift consists of more than nine million words of notes taken from 3,500 sources. These include 961 manuscript collections belonging to individuals and institutions plus books, magazines and newspaper files.

Long, a former staff writer and editor for The Associated Press, collected the material for "The Centennial History of the Civil War," by Bruce Catton, Pulitzer Prize historian.

City Planning Millwood Water Study

At a meeting last night the City Board of Directors passed a resolution calling for an engineer's study on the best way and means of securing water from the Millwood Reservoir.

The group also voted to purchase a new fogging machine. Engineer John Hawkins discussed preliminary plans in connection with sewer and water facilities to a local industrial site. The City of Hope has been granted $200,000 from the federal government for the project. This will be matched by the City.

A resolution was passed executing an operating agreement for a community center and a community facility for Senior citizens in connection with the proposed housing project. This center besides housing a collection office would be available for various socials and meetings.

The group agreed to rezone an area on North Hazel Street. His would allow Theo Primus to build a cafe across from Rose Hill Cemetery.

NAACP Asks Reversal of Judgment

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People told the Supreme Court today its very survival — and that of the entire civil rights movement — may have been imperiled by a recent decision to let an $85,793 Georgia picketing judgment stand.

Asking the justices to reconsider the case, the NAACP said the high court's action opened the door to damage suits which could "harass, impoverish and eventually paralyze" the organization.

The Supreme Court dismissed without explanation April 27 an NAACP appeal from a Georgia ruling that the national association can be held liable for picketing ordered by its Savannah branch.

The 5-4 ruling produced a furious dissent by Justice William O. Douglas, who warned that "juries might run pell-mell" to destroy "unpopular groups" like the NAACP.

The NAACP had argued that it had no control over the picketing of a Savannah grocery store whose owner sued it, the local branch and local offices for damages.

Jordan Forces Beat Off Raiders

County Roads Are Being Repaired

Since the exceptionally heavy rains in April caused thousands of dollars damage to the Hempstead County roads, and to a 11 roads in southwest Arkansas, the Hempstead County Road Department has been repairing bridges and graveling washed out roads in all parts of the county as rapidly as possible.

Judge Orle Byers has said that all the needed repair work has not yet been completed from this disaster, however all county road equipment and personnel have been working overtime, and will continue to do so until all the roads have been put back in good condition. The continued rains since the deluge in April have greatly hampered this repair work.

Judge Byers stated that he deeply appreciated the patience and cooperation which the people of Hempstead County have shown him and the road department during this emergency, and assures the public that the roads not yet repaired will be done as soon as possible.

Can't Figure Auto Sales Good or Bad

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business News Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry tried to figure out today whether mid-May auto sales figures were good or bad.

Optimists were cheered that the 242,407 sales posted May 11-20 ran about 50,000 cars ahead of the early May totals.

Others noted that the latest total lagged about 3,000 units behind the corresponding 10 days of last year. It also marked the fourth time in the last five 10-day periods that sales figures trailed those of a year ago.

The sales pattern was the same at all four auto companies.

General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors all sold more cars than they did in the opening 10 days of this month when sales dipped sharply. Each sold fewer cars than in May 11-20 1965.

There were many cheering signs in the over-all auto picture.

Sales for calendar 1966 through May 20 totaled 3,681,096 new cars, about 1 per cent or 32,749 cars ahead of the 1965 pace.

May's auto production quota of about 800,000 cars appeared within reach. It would mark the second biggest May in automotive history, second only to the 837,701 cars built in that month last year.

Dewey Barlett of Tulsa won the Republican nomination. Pat J. Patterson was nominated for the Senate to oppose Democratic Sen. Fred R. Harris.

Explorer 32 Is Launched Into Space

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Explorer 32, America's newest orbiting chemical laboratory, bounded into space today to begin mapping uncharted regions of earth's upper atmosphere.

The 492-pound Explorer, the size and shape of a shiny beach ball, blasted off at 10 a.m. (EDT) on the tip of a sleek Delta rocket. Its launch sounded the opening gun for one of the busiest seven day launch schedules in Cape Kennedy history.

Explorer's booster rocket — aimed for an egg-shaped orbit ranging from 170 to 750 miles above the earth.

"We appear to have a normal flight," a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said after the spacecraft achieved orbit.

ARKADELPHIA, Ark. (AP) — A dramatic, day-long manhunt in a desolate swampland has ended with the capture of Glenn Stewart, charged with murder in the Mother's Day slaying of an Indiana factory worker.

Weary and bearded after eluding a massive search party, Stewart, 30, surrendered Tuesday to a state trooper, apparently unaware that the dead man's widow also had been charged with the murder of 35-year-old Larry Schmidt. Stewart said he was innocent.

In a bizarre twist to a sensational case, police in Marion, Ind., jailed Schmidt's widow, Edith, 27 and quoted her as saying that she and Stewart were lovers who had plotted her husband's death 48 hours before he was killed May 8.

The woman had told police Sunday that Stewart killed her husband over a $50 debt kidnapped her and her two children and took them on a 16-day trip of terror.

It was her first story, told from her parents home in Sparta, Tenn., that led Indiana officers to Schmidt's dismembered body, sliced into five pieces in the dirt-floor basement of his Marion home Sunday.

Marion Police Chief Ted Null said Stewart apparently let Mrs. Schmidt and the children go on his flight from Marion to his home in Arkadelphia because they were hindering his escape.

Null quoted her as saying that she and Stewart used a knife to kill her husband, then a hack-saw to cut off his arms and legs.

However, Prosecutor Robert Foust said he did not think Mrs. Schmidt committed the actual stabbing but believed she was a conspirator in what he described as a love-triangle murder. She was jailed on a preliminary charge of first-degree murder to await grand jury action.

Africans Fail to Get Endorsement
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African nations have failed to win Security Council endorsement of another demand for Britain to use force to overthrow Prime Minister Ian Smith's white minority regime in Rhodesia.

Britain has already applied an economic boycott against its runaway colony at the council's request.

Police Break Series of New Protest Riots

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Riot police backed by paratroopers broke up a series of antigovernment demonstrations in Saigon today after the city's mayor banned a massive Buddhist "march of peace" against Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime.

Several persons were injured and a number of Buddhist monks and nuns were arrested as the heavily armed police scattered the demonstrators with tear gas in one of the heaviest downpours of the year.

The paratroops set up positions on streets to the market. Many units were armed with machine guns.

Ky's opponents demonstrated peacefully in three other cities, including the northern Buddhist stronghold of Hue, while government supporters rallied in another.

Although the political crisis kept many government troops out of the field, a government spokesman said Vietnamese soldiers killed 58 Viet Cong in five ground actions Tuesday, including a heavy Communist attack on the central coast that failed to dislodge the outnumbered defenders.

While fighting remained at a low level generally, the U.S. Command disclosed a new sweep operation by the U.S. 173rd Airborne Division and an Australian regiment in the jungles 40 miles southeast of Saigon. So far 20 Viet Cong have been killed in the nine-day operation.
